ROBERT A. FOX
LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

2017

University of Pennsylvania

RESEARCH AND SERVICE FELLOWSHIPS
THE FOX RESEARCH AND SERVICE FELLOWSHIPS

FOUNDED IN 1999 thanks to the generosity of Robert A. Fox (C’52) and Penny Fox (Ed’53), the Robert A. Fox Leadership Program (“Fox”) at the University of Pennsylvania within its School of Arts and Sciences (“SAS”) has become one of the nation’s largest and most widely respected university-based leadership and fellowship programs. Students from each of Penn’s four major undergraduate units (the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Nursing Science, the Wharton School, and the School of Engineering), as well as from the SAS College of Liberal and Professional Studies, have flocked to Fox and are counted among its most distinguished present and former student leaders. Consistent with the inspired vision of its benefactors, and blessed over the years by numerous close working partners at Penn and beyond, Fox has sponsored or co-sponsored research projects, community service initiatives, and a diverse roster of speakers and events. (visit www.foxleadership.org for more details)
The Fox Program has always created opportunities for current students and recent graduates to identify, develop and apply their unique skills. To codify and build on that special program tradition, we have developed a robust portfolio of research and service fellowships that allow students and recent alumni to engage with leading professors and organizations throughout the world. In the great Fox “can-do and do better!” tradition, we will have awarded and funded 1,500 fellowships by 2025. In 2017, Fox sponsored four different types of named and funded fellowships:

- FREDERIC FOX FELLOWSHIPS: This fellowship is dedicated to a low-income student who attended high school and resides in Philadelphia. It offers four years of tuition, room and board, and Fox fellowships.

- PENNY FOX RESEARCH AND SERVICE FELLOWSHIPS: These fellowships are dedicated to presently enrolled students or alumni who graduated from Penn since the Fox Program’s launch in 1999 who are engaged with the program during the summer months.

- ROBERT A. FOX RESEARCH AND SERVICE FELLOWSHIPS: These fellowships are dedicated to presently enrolled students or alumni who graduated from Penn since 1999 who are engaged with the program in one or more semesters during the academic year.

- ROBERT A. FOX AND PENNY FOX ALUMNI RESEARCH AND SERVICE FELLOWSHIPS: These fellowships are dedicated to students who graduated from Penn since 1999 who are engaged with the program for an entire year or more.

For helping to institute and institutionalize the Fox Fellowships, we are grateful, as ever, to Robert A. Fox and Penny Fox, as well as to Penn President Dr. Amy Gutmann; the SAS Dean of Faculty, Dr. Steven Fluharty; the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Paul Sniegowski; Robert A. Fox Leadership Professor, Dr. Dennis DeTurck; the Vice Dean of SAS Professional and Liberal Education, Ms. Nora Lewis; the Vice Dean of SAS Advancement, Ms. Jean-Marie Kneeley; the Penn Dean of Admissions, Mr. Eric Furda; Ms. Mary Summers, Fox Leadership Program Resident Senior Fellow; and the many other Penn faculty affiliates and senior fellows who have assisted or encouraged this innovation. Most of all, we are grateful to our present and former Penn students. In 2017, the Fox Program had 136 Fox Fellows representing 157 fellowships.

John J. DiIulio, Jr.
Frederic Fox Leadership Professor;
Faculty Director

Joseph P. Tierny
Executive Director

Euria Chung
Associate Director of Operations

Dan Cheely
Fox-Perry Associate Director

John Lapinski
Associate Faculty Director

ROBERT A. FOX LEADERSHIP PROGRAM
TOP LEFT: Fox Associate Faculty Director and PORIES Director John Lapinski with Fox Fellows.

TOP RIGHT: Yabin Xi, Yuanhao Liu, and Xirui Liu at a site visit during a Spring Break educational and cultural immersion trip to New Orleans.

BELOW (Left to right) Former Fox Fellow Phoebe Henninger, NBC News Analyst Nicolle Wallace, Fox-PORIES fellowship mentor Dr. Brielle Harbin, NBC News Host Brian Williams, and Fox Fellows Louis Lin, Tiger Brown, and Saleel Huprikar.
TOP: Nutritional Development Services Fellows Kayla Bernstein, Elana Burack, Shoshana Segal-Miller, and Kathryn Wang with former Fellow Hannah Louie.

RIGHT: Kristin Johnson, Sam Joo, and Maria Petty during a summer educational and cultural immersion trip to China.

BELOW LEFT: Julia Dionne at her fellowship with Covenant House New Orleans, with holiday presents for homeless youth.

BELOW RIGHT: Sofia Medrano with local Girl Scouts at an event at Penn.
Zakya Hall C'17 is a Political Science major and Hispanic Studies minor from Philadelphia, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Girls Inc. of Greater Philadelphia on a nonpartisan program to empower and inspire girls to participate in the political process, and also co-led Penn Leads the Vote to mobilize Penn students to register and vote in the presidential election.

Zhi Yang Lin C'18 is a Mathematical Economics major from Philadelphia, PA. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Benefits Data Trust in the policy department to research policy options for public benefit programs and to help develop a policy play-book for multiple states.

Pierre Aymerich C'18 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major and Consumer Psychology minor from Saint Germain-en-Laye, France. As a Fox Fellow, he worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) analyzing the results from the 2016 U.S. presidential election and the 2017 French presidential election.
Aminat Balogun C’19 is a Health and Societies major from Harrisburg, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked at the Pennsylvania Department of Education in the division of Food and Nutrition, where she assisted with the day-to-day activities of administering and monitoring compliance of eight federal child nutrition programs.

Rebecca Batchelder C’18 is a Health and Societies major from Swarthmore, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Professor Melissa Wilde on a research project studying various religious denominations’ views about birth control, abortion and homosexuality.

Philippe Becker C’18 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major and Latin American and Latino Studies minor from Caracas, Venezuela. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with the Paideia Institute for Humanistic Study, Inc. in Rome, helping create materials to teach introductory Latin to students in under-resourced communities.

Kayla Bernstein C’20 is from Gladwyne, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Nutritional Development Services and its Summer Meals Program to increase awareness about hunger, and helped distribute nutritious meals to low-income children.

Elana Burack C’19 is a Religious Studies major from Fort Mill, SC. As a Fox Fellow, she planned, assisted, and coordinated the delivery and serving of meals at Nutritional Development Services through the federal Summer Meals Program.
Claire Daly C’18 is an English and Philosophy double major from Melbourne, Australia. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Children’s Healthcare is a Legal Duty (CHILD), researching how victims of child sex abuse fare in the legal process when they file lawsuits as adults, and evaluating legislative language related to maximizing vaccination rates of children.

Julia DaSilva C’19 is a Health and Societies major and Spanish and International Development minor from Coconut Creek, FL. As a Fox Fellow, she worked at the PA Dept. of Education in the Division of Food and Nutrition, where she assisted with the day-to-day activities of administering and monitoring compliance of eight federal child nutrition programs.

Emily Rose DeMarco MPA’18 is a student in the Fels Institute of Government. She is from Aberdeen, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Broad Street Ministry’s art program which seeks to provide valuable, stimulating activity to those experiencing homelessness.

Courtney Dougherty C’18 is a Political Science major from Wynnewood, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Children’s Healthcare is a Legal Duty (CHILD), researching how victims of child sex abuse fare in the legal process when they file lawsuits as adults, and evaluating legislative language related to maximizing vaccination rates of children.
Ashanta Douglas MPA’18 is a student in the Fels Institute of Government. She is from Atlanta, GA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the District of Columbia Public Schools’ central office on various projects.

Ariel Epstein C’19 is a Biological Basis of Behavior major and Political Science minor from Belle Mead, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the CEO of the Brem Foundation to Defeat Breast Cancer, a foundation that uses education, access, and physician training to maximize every woman’s chance of finding early, curable breast cancer.

Gabriel Ferrante C’17 is a Biochemistry and Philosophy double major from New Canaan, CT. As a Fox Fellow, he conducted research, wrote content, and edited copy for the Democracy Journal in Washington, D.C.

David Figurelli C’19 is an Economics major and Statistics minor from Flemington, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, he worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on a project analyzing whether revoking driver’s licenses makes people less likely to vote.

Samuel Follansbee C’18 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major from Annandale, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with MANNA, an organization that cooks and delivers nutritious, medically-appropriate meals and provides nutrition counseling to neighbors who are battling life-threatening illnesses.
Peiling Gan MPA’18 is a student in the Fels Institute of Government. She is from Jiangxi Province, China. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific. She also participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Evangeline Giannopoulos C’18 is a Communication major and Consumer Psychology minor from New Hyde Park, NY. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the marketing and communications unit of Girls Inc., managing social media outlets, assisting with writing and distributing marketing materials, researching opportunities, and supporting special events.

Joelle Goldston C’19 is a Health and Societies major with minors in Law and Society and Africana Studies. She is from Upper Darby, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked at the National Urban League in the Talent Management department.

Carter Goodwin C’18 is a Political Science major from Alexandria, VA. As a Fox Fellow, he conducted research at the Brookings Institution for Senior Fellows E.J. Dionne and William Galston in the Governance Studies program.

KaJaiyaiu Hopkins C’19 is a Sociology major from Milwaukee, WI. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Professor Melissa Wilde on a research project studying various religious denominations’ views about birth control, abortion and homosexuality.
Liwang Huang MPA’18 is a student in the Fels Institute of Government. She is from Chongqing, China. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs. She also participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Saleel Huprikar C’20 is from Deerfield, IL. As a Fox Fellow, he worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on a research project studying attitudes toward the Affordable Care Act.

Stephen Imburgia C’19 is a Political Science major with minors in Economic Policy and Journalistic Writing. He is from Dix Hills, NY. As a Fox Fellow, he conducted research at the Brookings Institution for Senior Fellows E.J. Dionne and William Galston in the Governance Studies program.

Patricia Jia C’18 is a Communication major and Consumer Psychology minor from Fremont, CA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Greater Philadelphia Coalition Against Hunger and the Mayor’s Office of Community Empowerment and Opportunity to create a multi-media campaign to publicize DHS’ mobile app for public benefits.

Kristin Johnson C’15 graduated from Penn with a Political Science major and French minor. She is from Naperville, IL. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion trip to China, focusing on the eldercare crisis in China.
Lara Jung C’19 is a Health and Societies major and Urban Education minor from Chicago, IL. As a Fox Fellow, she worked for the Teacher’s Institute of Philadelphia (TIP) to spearhead a major expansion of the program and a redevelopment of its online curriculum resource sharing system.

Maya Kapur C’19 is a Sociology major and Statistics and Urban Education minor from Swarthmore, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on a research project about the effects of voter ID laws in Michigan and Texas.

Louis Lin C’20 is a Political Science and Health and Societies double major from Merrick, NY. As a Fox Fellow, he worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on research projects about attitudes toward the Affordable Care Act, the perceptions of discrimination among immigrants, and swing states in the 2016 election.

Nikki Lin C’19 is a History and Political Science double major and Urban Education minor from New Rochelle, NY. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Teacher’s Institute of Philadelphia (TIP) and evaluated the impact of TIP, analyzing data on teacher job satisfaction and retention and on the use of curriculum units developed at TIP seminars.

Jenna Liu C’20 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major and Consumer Psychology minor from Columbia, MO. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the Girls Inc. Public Policy office in Washington, D.C., tracking and analyzing federal legislation and other policy initiatives affecting girls.
Rebecca Molinoff C’20 is an intended Philosophy, Politics and Economics major from Trumbull, CT. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on a research project exploring storytelling in the political arena and everyday citizens’ perceptions of policy issues.

Catherine Monk C’19 is a Political Science major with minors in Law and Society and French. She is from Merrimack, NH. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the President’s Office and with the Legal Division at the National Urban League.

Natalie Mullins C’19 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major with minors in Hispanic Studies and Law and Society. She is from South Orange, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, she worked at the National Urban League in the marketing and communications department.

Amanda Nart C’18 is a Hispanic Studies and History double major from Houston, TX. As a Fox Fellow, she facilitated activities and lessons for daily summer camp sessions at Puentes Hacia el Futuro in Philadelphia.

Sarah Neukrug C’18 is a Health and Societies major and History minor from Philadelphia, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Cooking Crew Academy at Comegys School, helping young chefs prepare a healthy meal for their peers, while also using art, technology and writing to support the engagement of the young chefs in their tasks.
Miles Owen MPA’18 GCP’18 is a dual master’s candidate in Public Administration and City Planning. He is from Charleston, SC. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with the Pennsylvania Environmental Council on stormwater and watershed issues.

Maria Petty Nu’10 GNu’11 graduated from Penn with a Nursing degree and M.S. in Adult Health and Gerontology. She is from Wethersfield, CT. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion trip to China, focusing on the eldercare crisis in China.

Barry Plunkett C’20 is an Economics major with minors in CIS, Math and Statistics. He is from Ellicott City, MD. As a Fox Fellow, he worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on a research project developing a more direct measure of social capital, using data from Venezuela.

Sophie Raffel C’18 is a Political Science major and Consumer Psychology minor from Portland, ME. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the Girls Inc. Public Policy office in Washington, D.C., tracking and analyzing federal legislation and other policy initiatives affecting girls.

Hadassah Raskas C’20 is an intended Health and Societies major from Silver Spring, MD. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Athletes for Hope, an organization whose mission is to educate, encourage and assist athletes in their efforts to contribute to community and charitable causes.
Shoshana Segal-Miller C’19 is a Health and Societies major with minors in Psychology and Statistics. She is from Chapel Hill, NC. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Summer Meals Program at Nutritional Development Services, assisting with day-to-day operations of a federally-funded Child Nutrition Program.

Reece Sisto C’18 is an Urban Studies major from Crystal River, FL. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Dr. Steve Viscelli on a research project studying the work and labor market decisions of Uber and Lyft drivers.

Kate Sohn C’18 is a Health and Societies major from Princeton, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the CEO of the Brem Foundation to Defeat Breast Cancer, a foundation that uses education, access, and physician training to maximize every woman’s chance of finding early, curable breast cancer.

Colin Sorensen MPA’18 GEd’18 is a dual master’s candidate in Public Administration and Education Policy. He is from Greeley, CO. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with the Oregon Chief Education Office on policies and projects related to teacher advancement, teacher development, and education legislation.

Kyle Tebo C’17 is a Philosophy major from Houston, TX. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with the Collegium Institute for Catholic Thought and Culture in all areas of programming including designing curricula for seminars, drafting grant requests, and constructing and managing databases.
Isabelle Tersio C’18 is a Biological Basis of Behavior major with minors in Chemistry and Economic Policy. She is from Boca Raton, FL. As a Fox Fellow, she worked as a Farm Crew Leader with Bartram’s Garden Community Farm, teaching high school students how to work on a farm, sell produce at the farmers’ market, teach nutrition through cooking, and do community outreach.

Kathryn Wang W’20 is a Finance and Business Ethics & Law major and Computer Science minor from Chalfont, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Summer Meals Program at Nutritional Development Services, assisting with day-to-day operations of a federally-funded Child Nutrition Program for low-income children in Philadelphia.

Hanzhe Xue MPA’18 is a student in the Fels Institute of Government. She is from Gansu Province, China. As a Fox Fellow, she assisted in policy evaluation and conducted field research for the National Development and Reform Commission of the People’s Republic of China.

Xuhan Yan MPA’18 MPH’18 is a dual master’s candidate in Public Administration and Public Health. She is from Beijing, China. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in public affairs and communications within the Department of Acupuncture in the Hubei Hospital of Traditional Chinese Medicine.
Ruolei Zhu MPA’18 is a graduate student in the Fels Institute of Government. She is from Zhenjiang Province, China. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Urban Affairs Coalition in the Community and Economic Development Department and researched and structured a 10-year strategic plan.

Wenjia Zhu W’20 Nu’20 is a Nursing and Healthcare Management double major from Nanjing, China. As a Fox Fellow, she conducted research on the utilization of telemedicine in addressing the eldercare crisis in China.

Ben Zimmerman MPA’18 is a student in the Fels Institute of Government. He is from Cascade, WI. As a Fox Fellow, he worked in the City of Philadelphia’s Managing Director’s Office of Performance Management and designed and facilitated strategic planning sessions with department leadership.
ROBERT A. FOX RESEARCH AND SERVICE FELLOWSHIPS

Evanie Anglade C’19 is a Health and Societies major from Short Hills, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to India.

Lily Berkowitz C’19 is a Political Science major and Cinema and Media Studies minor from Haddonfield, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Children’s Healthcare is a Legal Duty (CHILD), performing interdisciplinary research to aid in identifying evidence-based solutions to prevent childhood sexual abuse and neglect.

Joshua Bramble C’18 is an East Asian Languages and Civilizations and Political Science double major from Washington, D.C. As a Fox Fellow, he worked in the Center for the Study of Contemporary China, a Penn center for speaker events and conferences focusing on developments in modern China.

Caroline Casey C’19 is a Biology major from Princeton Junction, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to India.
Evan Cernea C’17 is an Urban Studies major and History minor. He is from Bethesda, MD. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Dr. Steve Viscelli on a research project studying the public cost of subsidizing turnover in the trucking industry.

Angela Chang C’17 is a Chemistry major and International Development minor from Newtown Square, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Iman Charania C’17 is a Political Science major from Sugar Land, TX. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES), conducting research on voter registration and identification laws, checking and analyzing historic exit poll trends, and assembling historical and current survey research data.

Sonari Chidi C’20 is a Cinema and Media Studies and Africana Studies double major from Los Angeles, CA. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Dr. Stephanie Boddie on a project continuing W.E.B. Du Bois’ unfinished business of promoting the full humanity of all people and moving closer to the American ideal of liberty and justice for all.
Cheshta Dhingra C’17 is an Economics major with minors in Biological Basis of Behavior and Health Services Management. She is from Wallingford, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Philadelphia Mayor’s Office of Community Empowerment and Opportunity on a research project related to public benefit access.

Stephen Danley C’07 graduated from Penn with a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major and Public Policy minor. He is from Camden, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, he worked on completing his book manuscript, “A Neighborhood Politics of Last Resort.”

Alisha Chowdhury C’18 is an Economics and Political Science double major from New Orleans, LA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on election-related projects and research, and assisted the Decision Desk in New York City on the night of the presidential election.

Hannah Fagen C'17 is a Health and Societies major and Nutrition minor from Port Washington, NY. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Erin Farrell C’19 is a Communication and Political Science double major from Doylestown, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on a research project about evangelical Christians’ political and religious attitudes and the 2016 election.
Jintao Fu MSE’18 is a master’s candidate in Materials Science and Engineering. He is from Shenyang, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Jacob Gardenswartz C’18 MPA’18 is a Communication and Public Service major and a master’s candidate in the Fels Institute of Government. He is from San Diego, CA. As a Fox Fellow, he worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on election-related projects and research.

Pablo Golac C’19 is a Health and Societies and Political Science double major and French minor from Naples, FL. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to India.

Claire Greenberg C’17 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major from Richmond, VA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked in the Program on Opinion Research and Election Studies (PORES) on a research project focusing on how low-level municipal offenses relate to political participation in the 2016 election.

Denisse Guevara C’17 is an Urban Studies major from Yonkers, NY. As a Fox Fellow, she facilitated the Politics of Food course service placement at the Community Farm and Food Resource Center at Bartram’s Garden.
Yiru Guo MPA’17 is a student in the Fels Institute of Government. She is from Jiangsu Province, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Alaina Hall Nu’18 is a Nursing major with double minors in Spanish and Global Health. She is from Plymouth, MN. As a Fox Fellow, she co-led the Penn Catholic Student Association and worked to connect students at Penn with the West Philadelphia community through service.

Xinyue Han C’19 W’19 is a Political Science major with minors in Finance and Business Analytics. She is from Beijing, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Adnan Zikri Jaafar W’18 is an International Studies and Finance major with minors in Philosophy and Economics. He is from Kedah, Malaysia. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Professor Ram Cnaan on research projects analyzing nonprofit organizations in Israel and faith-based episodic volunteering.

Samuel Joo C’17 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major from Seoul, South Korea. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans; and an educational and cultural immersion trip to China, focusing on the eldercare crisis in China.
Jeremiah Keenan C’17 is a Mathematics major and Statistics minor from Guangzhou, China. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Professor Melissa Wilde studying various religious denominations’ views about birth control, abortion and homosexuality.

Daniel Klyde EAS’18 is a Bioengineering major and Chemistry minor from Wyckoff, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, he served as Chief of Penn’s Medical Emergency Response Team (MERT), a student-run EMS organization.

Iverson Korsen C’18 is a Cognitive Science major with minors in Hispanic Studies and Healthcare Management. He is from Lederach, PA. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to India.

Zhiyuan Li MCIT’17 GEE’17 is a dual master’s candidate in Computer and Information Technology and Electrical Engineering. He is from Nanjing, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Daniel Lilling C’18 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major from Yonkers, NY. As a Fox Fellow, he co-led Penn Leads the Vote, a voter mobilization effort dedicated to increasing the number of Penn students who register and vote in the presidential election.
Nan Lin GrM’18 is a Ph.D. candidate in Cancer Biology. She is from Ningbo, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Yang Liu GEng’17 is a master’s candidate in Biotechnology. He is from Liaoning Province, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Yuanhao Liu SP2’17 is a master’s candidate in Social Policy. He is from Beijing, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Zirui Liu GSE’17 is a master’s candidate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL). She is from Wuhan, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Arjun Malik C’18 is an Economics major and Political Science minor from Chandigarh, India. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Dr. Beverly Frazier on a research project about faith-based organizations using faith and spiritually-based programming and planning for ex-prisoners.
Ricardo Martinez C’18 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics major from Brownsville, TX. As a Fox Fellow, he facilitated the Politics of Food course service placement with the Student/Farmworker Alliance, a national network of students and youth organizing with farmworkers to eliminate sweatshop conditions in the fields.

Katherine McGannon C’18 is an Economics major with minors in Psychology, Hispanic Studies and Environmental Studies. She is from Garden City, NY. As a Fox Fellow, she co-led the Penn Catholic Student Association and worked to connect students at Penn with the West Philadelphia community through service.

Sofia Medrano C’17 is a Communication major and Hispanic Studies minor from San Clemente, CA. As a Fox Fellow, she served as co-director of Girl Scouts at Penn, coordinating events and workshops for local Girl Scout troops in Philadelphia.

Fanchao Meng MPA’17 is a student in the Fels Institute of Government. He is from Huangshan, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Jiaxuan Nie Nu’20 W’20 is a Nursing and Healthcare Management double major from Beijing, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.
Robyn Oster C’17 is an Urban Studies major with minors in Consumer Psychology and Economic Policy. She is from New Rochelle, NY. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Children’s Healthcare is a Legal Duty (CHILD), performing research to aid in identifying evidence-based solutions to prevent childhood sexual abuse and neglect.

Samantha Noblejas Nu’18 W’18 is a Nursing and Healthcare Management and Policy double major from Freehold, New Jersey. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to India.

Limin Niu MES’18 is a master’s candidate in Environmental Policy. She is from Inner Mongolia, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Trudel Pare C’17 is a Political Science major and Bioethics minor from Columbia, MD. As a Fox Fellow, she facilitated the Politics of Food course and Healthy Schools course service placements at Kensington Health Sciences Academy.

Bevan Pearson C’18 is an Earth Science major from Philadelphia, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she facilitated the Healthy Schools course service placement at the Community Farm and Food Resource Center at Bartram’s Garden.
Hannah Peifer C’17 is an African Studies and Biology double major and Chemistry minor from Lake Ariel, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she served as Chief of Penn’s Medical Emergency Response Team (MERT), a student-run EMS organization.

Benjamin Pollack C’18 is an Economics and Sociology double major and Bioethics minor from Davie, FL. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Professor Richard Nathan conducting research on the Arkansas Medicaid program, Covered California, and active purchasing insurance exchanges.

Rachel Pomerantz C’19 is a Mathematical Economics major and Political Science minor from Charlotte, NC. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Wenyu Qi is an exchange student studying economics through Penn’s international global student program. He is from Shanghai, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Debbie Rabinovich C’19 is an Urban Studies and Gender Studies double major and Religion minor from Charlotte, NC. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Collegium Institute for Catholic Thought & Culture to bring innovative, intellectual programming to the University community.
Allison Russell SP’19 is a Ph.D. candidate in Social Welfare. She is from Buffalo, NY. As a Fox Fellow, she co-led students on an educational and cultural immersion trip to India during Spring Break.

Raina Searles W’17 is a Marketing and Communication major and Theater minor from Hainesport, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, she served as co-director of Girl Scouts at Penn, coordinating events and workshops for local Girl Scout troops in Philadelphia.

Katherine Senter C’17 is a Health & Societies major and Hispanic Studies minor from Oak Ridge, TN. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Professor Ram Cnaan on research projects analyzing nonprofit organizations in Israel, faith-based episodic volunteering, and the role of religion and national culture of prosocial behaviors.

Ryann Shaffer C’17 is a Health & Societies major from Philadelphia, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she facilitated the Healthy Schools course service placement with Playworks at Lea Elementary School.

Emily Smith C’16 graduated from Penn with a Biology major. She is from Newark, DE. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Professor Christine Bradway and Fox Executive Director Joe Tierney on a research project about eldercare and public health challenges in Wilmington, Delaware.
Ao Sun GEE’16 MCIT’17 graduated from Penn with dual master’s degrees in Electrical Engineering and Computer Information and Technology. She is from Anhui, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Brendan Taliaferro C’19 is a Comparative Literature major from Lilburn, GA. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Professor Melissa Wilde on a research project about various religious denominations’ views about birth control, abortion and homosexuality between 1945-2015.

Kai Tang GAr’18 is a master’s candidate in Architecture from Shanghai, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Patricia Tevington GR’18 is a Ph.D. candidate in Sociology from Morrisville, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Professor Melissa Wilde on a colloquium series about religion and the 2016 presidential election, and on research related to non-response bias on election surveys.

Peter Thacher C’17 is an Urban Studies and Political Science double major from St. Louis, MO. As a Fox Fellow, he worked with Dr. Steve Viscelli on research related to the trucking industry and energy efficiency.
Shirin Vetry C’18 is a Political Science major with minors in French and Francophone Studies and International Development. She is from Sugar Land, TX. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Dr. Beverly Frazier on a research project on faith-based organizations and their use of faith and spiritually-based programming and planning for ex-prisoners.

Jenny Wang C’19 is an Ecology & Evolutionary Biology major and Medical Sociology minor from Westchester, NY. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to India.

Ruoxi Wang GSE’17 is a master’s candidate in Statistics, Measurement, Assessment, and Research Technology. She is from Nanjing, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Yishan Wang C’18 W’18 is a Philosophy, Politics and Economics and Finance double major from Beijing, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Jacquiley Wong C’17 is an Economics major and Consumer Psychology minor from Melbourne, Australia. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Dr. Stephanie Boddie on a W.E.B. DuBois history project blending traditional research and oral histories together with documentaries, music and community conversations.
Jennifer Wright C’17 is a Communication major and Urban Education minor from Philadelphia, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Teacher’s Institute of Philadelphia (TIP) and evaluated the impact of TIP, analyzing data on teacher job satisfaction and retention and on the use of curriculum units developed at TIP seminars.

You Wu SP2’17 is a master’s candidate in Nonprofit Leadership. She is from Guangdong, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Fanghan Yang GEng’17 is a master’s candidate in Robotics from Shandong Province, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Wanyun Yang GEE’17 is a master’s candidate in Electrical Engineering from Tianjin, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Ran Zhang SP2’17 is a master’s candidate in Social Work from Qingdao, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.
Shiqi Zhao SP2’18 is a master’s candidate in Social Work from Guizhou Province, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Yiran Zhang SP2’18 is a master’s candidate in Social Work from Qingdao, China. As a Fox Fellow, she participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Mengge Zhao MCIT’18 GME’18 is a dual master’s candidate in Computer and Information Technology and Mechanical Engineering. He is from Guangdong, China. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.

Zilu Zhou GrM’20 is a Ph.D. candidate in Genomics and Computational Biology, and a master’s candidate in Statistics. As a Fox Fellow, he participated in an educational and cultural immersion Spring Break trip to New Orleans.
ROBERT A. FOX AND PENNY FOX ALUMNI RESEARCH AND SERVICE FELLOWSHIPS

Julia Dionne C’17 graduated from Penn with a History major and Hispanic Studies minor. She is from Bethesda, MD. As a Fox Fellow, she worked on data analysis and policy at Covenant House, a homeless youth shelter in New Orleans that addresses issues such as human trafficking and juvenile justice.

Elizabeth Feeney C’17 graduated from Penn with a Religious Studies major and Anthropology minor. She is from Philadelphia, PA. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Collegium Institute for Catholic Thought & Culture to bring innovative, intellectual programming to the University community.

Anthony Grasso GR’18 is a Ph.D. candidate in American Politics. He is from Morristown, NJ. As a Fox Fellow, he conducted research on the historical development of American criminal justice policy, focusing on differences and commonalities in the politicization of street crime and corporate crime over time.

Ellie Grimes C’17 graduated from Penn with a Health and Societies major and Gender, Sexuality, and Women’s Studies minor. She is from Louisville, KY. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with Catholic Charities Archdiocese of New Orleans as the special assistant to the Division Director, working on diverse community-based programs.
Bingqing Meng SP’16 graduated from Penn with a master’s degree in Nonprofit Leadership. She is from Shenzhen, China. As a Fox Fellow, she worked with the Fox Leadership International directors on projects and initiatives including the China-U.S. PEACE Student Alumni Society, upcoming conferences, and planning for summer programs.

Brian Rosenwald C’06 graduated from Penn with a Political Science and History double major. He is from Wynnewood, PA. As a Fox Fellow, he worked on completing his book manuscript, and developed panels relating to contemporary American politics.

Hannah Van Drie C’17 graduated from Penn with an International Relations major and Hispanic Studies and History minors. She is from Valparaiso, IN. As a Fox Fellow, she worked as the CEO’s assistant with the YMCA of Greater New Orleans, helping to enhance the health and safety of the community through programs like free water safety classes and adult literacy classes.

Yabin Xi is the second Penn China-U.S. PEACE Graduate Fellow of Fox Leadership International. He graduated from Tsinghua University. As a Fox Fellow, he worked on research for his master’s thesis.
Front Row: Penny Fox Ed’53, President Amy Gutmann; Robert A. Fox C’52
Middle Row: Dean Steven Fluharty C’79 G’79 Gr’81; Hannah Fox Wheeler; Amy Fox; Debra Fox
Back Row: John MacDonald, Penny and Robert A. Fox Faculty Director of the Fels Institute of Government; John J. Dilulio, Jr. C’80 G’80, Frederic Fox Leadership Professor of Politics, Religion, and Civil Society; Joseph Tierney, Executive Director, Fox Leadership Program; Chuck Brutsche CGS’95 GGS’98, Founding Associate Director (1999-2017), Fox Leadership Program